Trading on margin carries a high level of risk to your capital, and you may lose more than your initial deposit. We advise you to read the full risk warning before opening an account with PFH Markets (Mauritius), Registration No. C236399, Investment Dealer Licence No. GB26205901, licensed and regulated by the Financial Services Commission (FSC) of Mauritius (hereinafter referred to as "PFH Markets").

Margined trades are based on the price movement of an underlying financial product. Foreign exchange (forex, FX) and Contracts for Difference (CFDs) on Currencies, Commodities, Indices, or Equities are all margin-traded products and thus inherently carry a high-risk level that is not suitable for all investors.

Prior to opening an account with PFH Markets, you should carefully consider your objectives, financial situation, relevant experience and understanding with regards to trading. You should ensure that you will be able to manage and understand the risks involved and sustain any losses.

You should only trade with capital that you can afford to lose. PFH Markets recommends seeking advice from a separate/independent financial advisor. You should note that margin trading is based on leverage that allows you to execute large trades by only investing a small amount of money as a margin. If the price moves in your favour, you can significantly increase your profits. You should understand that even a very small movement in the non-desirable price may lead to substantial losses. Please note that in this case, you may be required to deposit additional margin immediately to keep your positions open.

Note that you are liable for any losses that may occur in the case of closed positions.

Bear in mind that not all trades can be opened or closed 24 hours a day. Your orders/positions are based on our prices and not those on any exchange.

Depending on the market, our prices will usually be based on an exchange price but can fluctuate away due to various reasons.
